Hocker Bootee.

It is conceded by our customers that the Hocker Bootee, as it is made to-day, is the best combination shoe and bootee that is made. The fact that each season records larger sales, justifies us in the belief that they are as near perfect as a high-class combination shoe can be made. We, bear the distinction of selling more of them than any other house handling a similar production. Do not buy any imitation, get the genuine Hocker Bootee if you want the best.

J. T. WALL & CO.,

We Are the Sole Agents.

HOUSE HAS BEEN CLEANED

And Everything In Readiness For Opening of Congress.

NEW VENTILATORS IN.

Congressional Hot Air Can Now Find Its Way Out Easier.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Arrangements for the opening of the Fifty-ninth congress, first session, are practically completed. A number of important and interesting changes have been made at the capital in anticipation of the reassembling of the national legislative body, which will be gratefully received by those of the members who know or care about such things.

An extensive new ventilating system has been put in and other changes in the interior have been made, which are distinctly noticeable. The entire building has been given a thorough cleaning, until there is not a vestige of the dirt that in some places have not been disturbed for half a century. This is particularly the case with the rotunda, which has been restored so that it looks as clean and new as it did fifty years ago when it was first completed.

FEW CHANGES

Expected To Be Made In Personnel of City Officials.

The old Council held its last meeting last night and the new council, which qualifies Monday, it is understood, will meet Monday night and fix salaries and select the appointive officers. Nearly all of the officers are candidates for re-election and the indications are that there will not be many changes made.

The principal officials who are not candidates for re-election are Mayor J. J. Henry, City-Attorney J. T. Hanberry and City-Clerk John C. Duffy.

Several changes are expected to be made in the police force. The fire department will probably be re-elected as a whole. There are about thirty officers to be elected in all.

BIG SUIT FILED.

Plaintiff Asks $25,000 Damages of Defendant.

J. D. Stolls, administrator of his father, T. O. Stolls, has filed suit in Trigg circuit court against the Ryman Steamboat Line for $25,000 damages by reason of the death of T. O. Stolls. It is alleged that T. O. Stolls, who was drowned in Cumberland river last August, was either killed and thrown overboard or carelessly allowed to fall overboard on said boat near Canton.

PLENTY OF GOOD THINGS

But No Turkey For the Convicts at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 1.—No work was done yesterday in the state penitentiary, the prisoners being given a holiday on account of Thanksgiving. No turkey was served, on account of the high price of that bird, but the prisoners had a good dinner, with pies and cakes. Religious services were held in the morning in the chapel. In the afternoon the men loafed.

Mrs. Morton Dead.

Mrs. Jno. G. Morton, wife of the venerable Madisonville banker and capitalist, died this week, aged 76 years. She was the mother of six children. Those living are: Mrs. J. D. McPherson, Mrs. J. G. B. Hall and W. C. Morton. There are a number of grandchildren.

JOE WEST DIED FROM INJURIES

Received From Pistol Shot in Hands of His Sister Saturday Night.

A DEPLORABLE AFFAIR.

Said From First He Would Die and Exonerated Sister On Death Bed.

Joe M. West, who was shot by his sister, Miss Fannie West, last Saturday night, died at 7:10 Thursday night. He was buried in Hopewell Cemetery yesterday afternoon, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. A. P. Lyon, of the Methodist church.

Mr. West leaves three children, a son, aged 15, who lives with his grandfather, Constable W. H. West, and two daughters, one of whom is attending school in Nashville. Mr. West married a young woman from the upper part of the State but they have not lived together for several years.

Mr. West worked about over the country as a carpenter. He had been working at Pembroke for a while. When working in or near the city he made his father's house his home. He came down from Pembroke Saturday and during the day some time unfortunately fell in with some of his old and bad associates and became intoxicated. A little after midnight he went to his father's home, and finding the house locked up and everybody asleep, he was at a loss what to do. He managed to find his way up a back stairway, and, making several attempts to force the door open, finally succeeded. But, just as the door gave way he received a pistol ball in his neck, as he was falling into the door after it had yielded to his weight. The pistol was fired at random in the dark by his sister, who thought that a burglar had broken into the room, which she always occupied herself.

The next morning after the shooting occurred Mr. West told the members of his family that he was going to die, that he would never recover, but that he did not blame his sister for shooting him, that he deserved to die.

Miss West, his sister, who fired the shot to frighten the supposed burglar from the house, said that she did not know her brother was in the city, and, of course, can be blamed by no one for the act. She is in the greatest sorrow over the affair and has the deepest sympathy of her friends and acquaintance.

DEATH OF YOUTH.

Sargent Olvey a Victim of Consumption.

Sargent Olvey, son of Mrs. Virginia Olvey, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the home of his mother, on West Seventeenth street, after an illness of several months, of consumption, aged 18 years. He was a cigar maker and a youth who had many friends. He had only been confined to his bed two months.

Funeral services will be held at the residence this morning at 10 o'clock by Dr. C. H. Nash and the interment will take place in Hopewell cemetery.

JOHN CHEANEY'S CASE

Is Called and Postponed to Next Thursday.

The case of the commonwealth against John Cheaney for the murder of Maude Ellis, alias Mrs. Scott, was called in Judge Fowler's court yesterday. By agreement of counsel the case was continued to next Thursday.

CHAPPELL LOST.

Hopkinsville Boy In Debate In Nashville.

At the Y. M. C. A. hall Wednesday night the annual Thanksgiving debate between the Philosophic and Dialectic Literary societies were won by the Dialectic. "Resolved, that the time was now come when the policy of the protective tariff should be abandoned by the United States" was the question. Ashby Lovelace, law of '07, and C. H. Lloyd, academic '06, represented the negative side of the question, and J. E. Chappell, academic '08, and R. L. Amburg, academic '05, represented the affirmative. All of the debaters are from Kentucky.

A rejoinder was allowed each speaker, the force of which did much to break down points previously made. Dr. R. B. Blake, Gen. W. H. Washington and Reau E. Folk acted as judges.

Gen. Washington, who announced the decision, said that the discussion on either side was very creditable and showed that great things were to be expected from the debaters.—American.

GOES TO MISSOURI.

Rev. Fred Whittenbraker Resigns Pastorate at Sinking Fork.

Rev. Fred W. Whittenbraker has resigned his pastorate of Sinking Fork Baptist church and accepted a call to a church at Novinger, Mo. His last sermon was preached at Sinking Fork last Sunday and he will leave in a few days for his new home, taking his family with him. Mr. Whittenbraker has been pastor of the Sinking Fork church for the last six years and has given great satisfaction to his church and has been popular as a preacher with the people generally. He will take with him to his new home the good wishes of a large circle of Kentucky friends. He is not only a minister of much success in his work, but is personally a gentleman of many endearing traits of character.

GOING TO MEMPHIS.

Rev. I. N. Strother Resigns As Pastor at Cadiz.

Rev. I. N. Strother, pastor of the Baptist churches at Cadiz, Rocky Ridge and West Union, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Seventh Street Baptist church in Memphis, Tenn., and will leave Cadiz the first of the year for his new field of labor. Nomore popular minister ever lived in Cadiz than Rev. Mr. Strother, and the departure of him and his most excellent family will be the source of very deep regret upon the part of the entire community.

His successor at Cadiz, Rocky Ridge and West Union has not yet been selected.—Cadiz Record.

SPORTSMAN DROWNED.

Lum Cain Loses His Life While Duck Hunting.

Lum Cain, of Clarksville, aged twenty-seven years, was drowned Thursday morning in Red River. In company with four others, Will Jackson, Arthur Hooton, Arthur West-ernberger and Andy Cain, the men went duck hunting. The canoe struck a whirlpool and capsized. All, with the exception of Lum Cain, succeeded in reaching shore. The unfortunate young man had been married only four weeks.
